

Mariken Maidenhair Tree

Ginkgo biloba 'Mariken'

This compact, bushy selection has proven an excellent find, descended with the unique history of the species, with the same fan-shaped green leaves that turn bright yellow in fall. But 'Mariken' stays very small, its thick, spreading branches loaded with a dense arrangement of foliage. The slow-growing, deciduous conifer makes a high-interest architectural feature, a flat, rounded, form, for either small garden or container.

Propeller Japanese Umbrella Pine

Sciadopitys verticillata 'Propeller'

Glossy green needles are relatively thin and arch with a bit of a twist to remind us of a plane propeller. A medium-sized tree with compact growth, 'Propeller' maintains a solid green all year around. Originating as a selection from Germany, we're excited about this new offering as it's dense form will be an asset in many garden situations. Best in rich, acidic soil that is well-drained. Tolerates full sun and partial shade.
